Jobstudent

Flexijob

Are you looking for a flexi job? Are you interested in the food industry and would you like to be part of a leading pork processing company?

Then a flexi job as a production worker at Westvlees is exactly what you are looking for!

As a flexi-jobber at Westvlees, you will be part of our production team, where you can perform a regular task in our packaging department, shipping department, cutting rooms or even in our slaughterhouse. You will have the opportunity to schedule one or more fixed day(s) together with the production manager.

What do we expect?

- Enthusiasm and motivation to work in a manufacturing environment.
- Willingness to learn and perform various tasks.
- Reliability and sense of responsibility.
- Flexibility in working hours and tasks.

What we offer?

What we offer.

- A competitive salary (where gross pay - under certain conditions - equals net pay!).
- A dynamic work environment with room for personal growth and development.
- Opportunities to gain valuable experience in the food industry.
- A pleasant working atmosphere in a team of motivated colleagues.

Don't wait any longer and become part of our passionate team at Westvlees! We look forward to hearing from you!
